

E-File Roles & Responsibilities

Managing Entitlements

October 2013

Some things to remember for today's webinar:

- Ask questions using the “Questions” box.
- If your question doesn't get answered during the webinar, we'll answer it afterwards.
- After the webinar, be sure to take our survey.

Today we'll talk about:

- Definitions for E-File terms you should know
- Two types of Company Officers and the differences between them
- The Company Officer and General Contact and the differences between them
- The responsibility of adding entitlements
- How to manage entitlements: a form by form walk-through

Managing Entitlements

E-File Terms to Know

Managing Entitlements

Company Officer:
498 vs. 499

Same Title, Different Roles

- 498 Company Officer:
 - Identified in Block 18 of the FCC Form 498
 - Responsible for managing users for all program forms
- 499 Company Officer:
 - Identified on the FCC Form 499
 - Responsible for managing entitlements for an authorized user of the FCC Forms 499-A/Q

Same Title, Different Roles

- Roles and responsibilities are the same for each Company Officer, however:
 - The 499 Company Officer does not have jurisdiction over the FCC Form 498 or any program forms.
 - The 498 Company Officer does not have jurisdiction over the FCC Forms 499-A and 499-Q.

Same Title, Different Roles

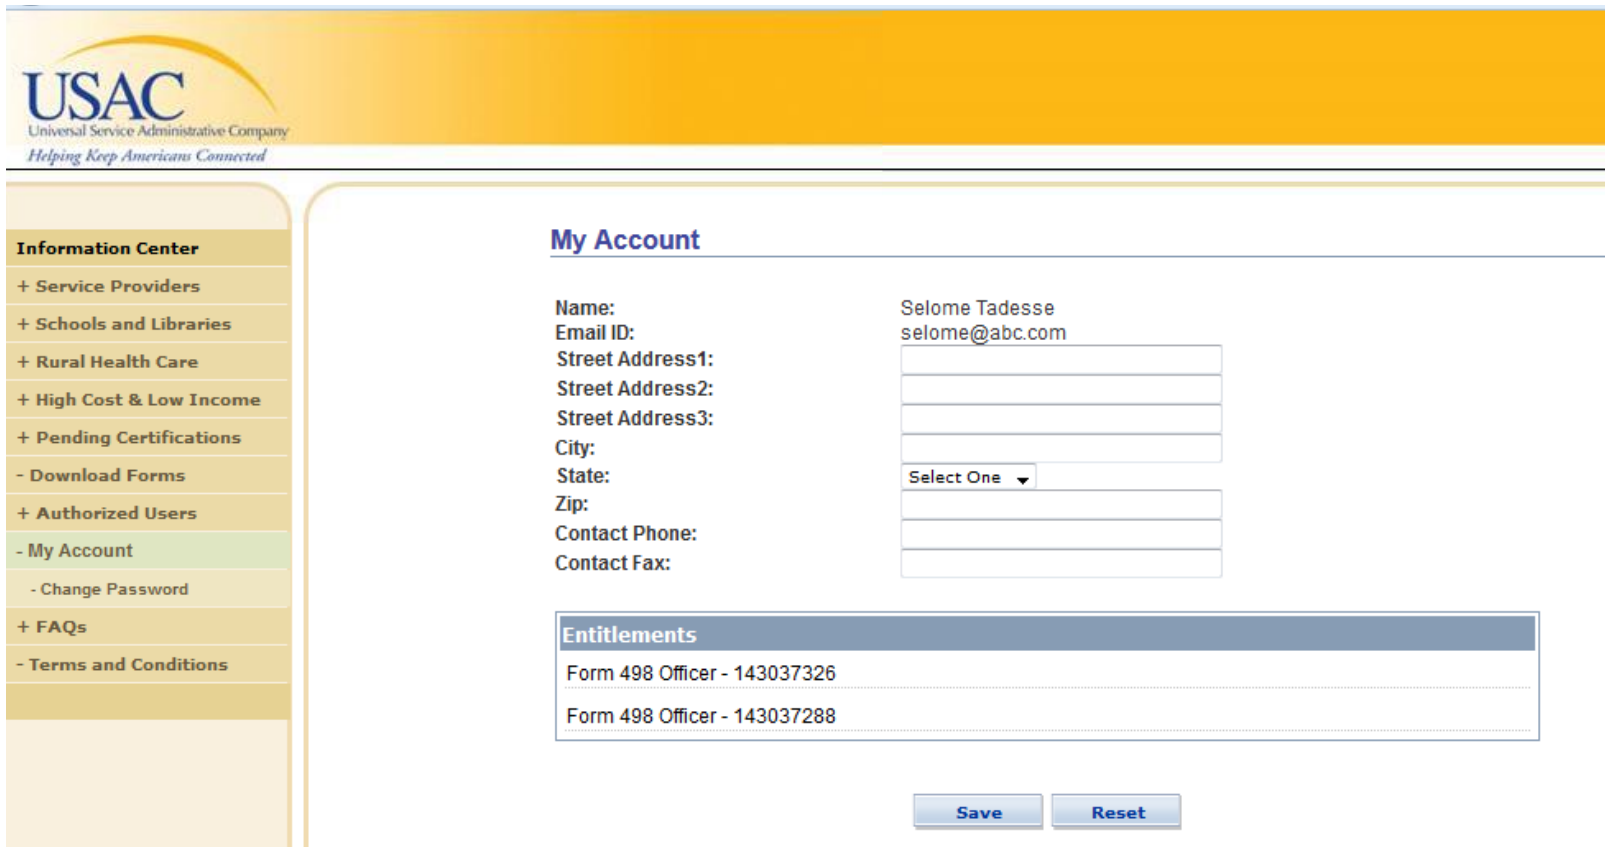

- Yes, the 499 Company Officer may or may not be the same person as the 498 Company Officer at your company.
- Yes, you may have more than one 498 Company Officer at your company.
 - Each FCC Form 498, or each SPIN, will have an associated 498 Company Officer
 - If your company has 35 SPINs, you may have up to 35 498 Company Officers

How do I know which I am?

When you log into E-File, you will know whether you are a 498 Company Officer, a 499 Company Officer, or the Company Officer for both.

We'll show you what to look for!

If you are the 498 Company Officer:

The screenshot shows the USAC website interface. At the top left is the USAC logo with the tagline "Helping Keep Americans Connected". Below the logo is a navigation menu titled "Information Center" with the following items: + Service Providers, + Schools and Libraries, + Rural Health Care, + High Cost & Low Income, + Pending Certifications, - Download Forms, + Authorized Users, - My Account (highlighted), - Change Password, + FAQs, and - Terms and Conditions.

The main content area is titled "My Account" and contains the following information and form fields:

Managing Entitlements

498 Company Officer & General Contact

Similar Roles

It can be easy to confuse the 498 Company Officer and the General Contact.

Their roles are very similar.

Similarities

- Can access E-File for the FCC Form 498 and all program forms
- Can reset the E-File password for authorized users at their company
- Can view, enter, submit, and certify data on all program forms
- Can create/delete users in E-File and is responsible for managing the accounts of all created users
- Can establish user entitlements for created users so they can access E-File and prepare/work on USAC forms

Differences

The General Contact can only view, enter data, and submit the FCC Form 498.

After the form is submitted, the 498 Company Officer must certify its accuracy.

The Company Officer is responsible for any and all actions of the General Contact and all authorized users created by the Company Officer or the General Contact.*

*With questions about this statement, please submit them now and we will try to address them throughout the next section!

Managing Entitlements

Your Responsibility as the Company Officer or General Contact

The responsibility falls on the CO and GC.

- Only the Company Officer and General Contact can authorize new users.
 - Upon user creation, that user will receive an automated email with their user name and password
- When new authorized users are created, USAC will not be able to provide them with customer support.
 - USAC Customer Operations can only answer questions from the CO or GC

The responsibility falls on the CO and GC.

- Authorized users need to contact the CO or GC with password reset or entitlement issues.
 - The CO or GC are responsible for resetting passwords and managing authorized user accounts
 - USAC cannot reset a password for an authorized user
- USAC cannot add, delete, or edit authorized user accounts on behalf of the CO or GC

Managing Entitlements

Quick Entitlement Facts

If you are...

- A 498 Company Officer or General Contact, you cannot be an authorized user on any program form, for any SPIN.
- A 499 Company Officer or Preparer, you cannot be an authorized user on the FCC Form 499.

Entitlements Across Forms

A user may only have one entitlement per form.

For example:

- A 525 User may not also be a 525 Agent
- A 481 Officer may not also be a 481 User

When creating entitlements, think it through.

Before deciding what type of authorized user you are going to create, identify the entitlements that you want the authorized user to have.

Be sure your needs for an authorized user align with the entitlements given.
