ACP Recertification

Recertification

Overview

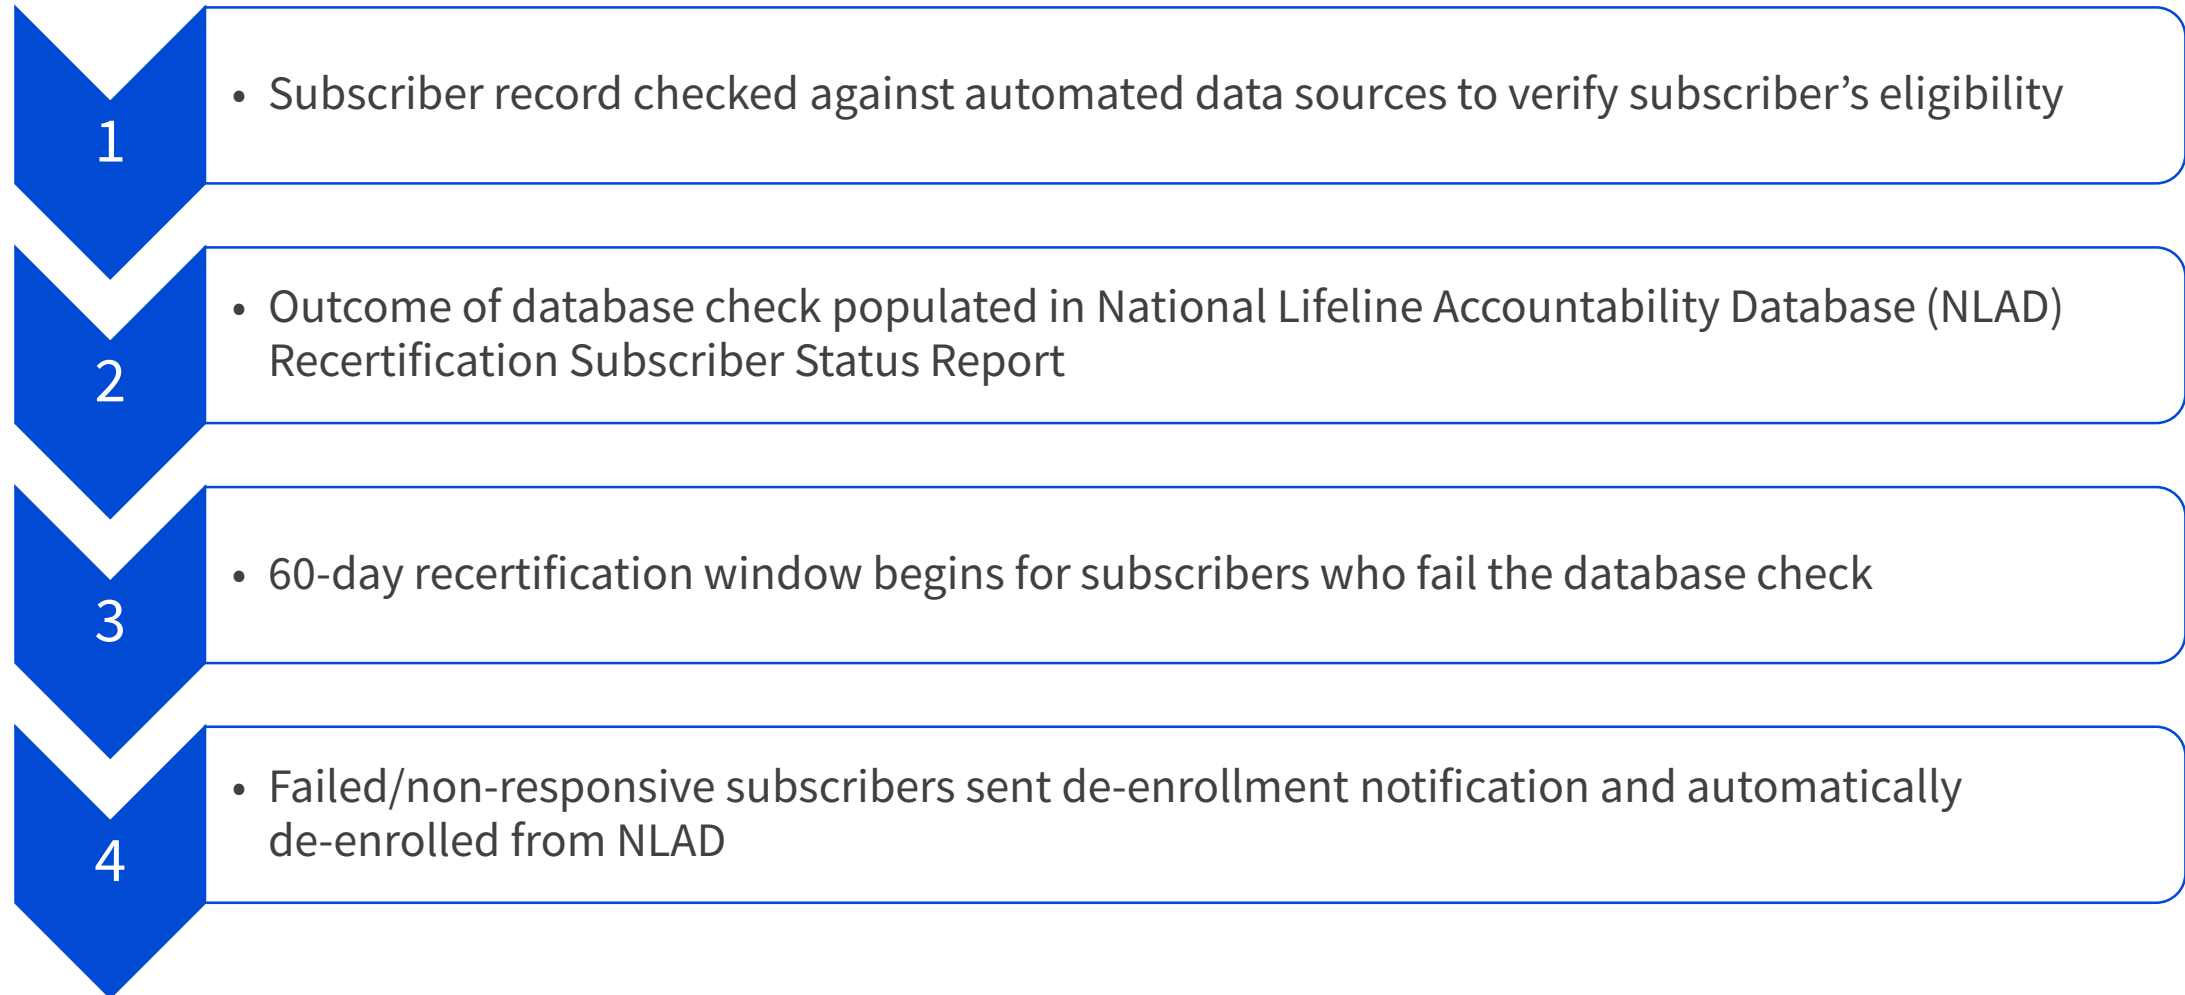

- Recertification is an annual requirement for ACP subscribers
- For subscribers who enrolled via the National Verifier, USAC conducts the recertification process
- Where USAC conducts recertification the National Verifier first attempts to verify program or income eligibility by checking available automated eligibility databases
 - Subscribers who pass the automated check do not need to take any action
 - These eligibility databases include federal and state database checks (CMS, HUD, and any state connections)
- Subscribers whose continued eligibility cannot be verified through the automated check have a 60-day recertification window to recertify their benefit
- Subscribers who fail to timely recertify their benefit are de-enrolled from the program

Recertification

- Subscribers will only be recertified once in the calendar year 2022, including:
 - ACP subscribers who enrolled prior to December 31, 2021
 - This includes Emergency Broadband Benefit Program (EBB) subscribers who transitioned to the ACP
 - Subscribers' whose eligibility was reverified in 2022 due to the removal of the substantial loss of income and participation in a providers' COVID-19 Program eligibility will not need to be recertified in 2022
 - ACP subscribers who also participate in Lifeline and enrolled in the ACP prior to December 31, 2021
 - Subscribers who participate in ACP and Lifeline that pass the Lifeline recertification process will not need to undergo a separate ACP recertification process for ACP

Recertification

Process

Recertification

Step 1: Eligibility Database Check

- For recertification, every subscriber whose continued eligibility has not been recertified through the Lifeline process will go through an automated eligibility check that will verify the subscriber's eligibility
 - Subscribers who pass the automated check do NOT need to take any action to retain their ACP benefit
 - Subscribers who fail the automated check are required to recertify their ACP eligibility
 - Subscribers who fail the recertification eligibility check and failed their previous (most recent) automated eligibility check are required to complete the ACP Recertification Form
 - Subscribers who fail the recertification eligibility check, but passed their previous (most recent) automated eligibility check are required to complete the ACP Recertification Form AND provide proof of eligibility

Recertification

Step 2: Recertification Report Populates in NLAD

- Service providers will be able to see which subscribers are currently undergoing recertification via the Recertification Subscriber Status Report in NLAD
- This is the only report for ACP Recertification, providers can filter the report by type:
 - Recertified
 - In Progress
 - De-enrolled – Failed Recertification
 - All

The screenshot displays the National Lifeline Accountability Database (NLAD) interface. The header includes the Universal Service Administrative Co. logo and the title "National Lifeline Accountability Database". A navigation menu contains "Subscriber Management", "ACP Subscriber Management", "Claims", "Account Management", and "Tools & Resources". The breadcrumb trail reads: "USAC Home | ACP Program | ACP | Tools & Resources | ACP Reports | ACP Recertification Subscriber Status Report".

The main content area is titled "EBBP/ACP Reports" with an "Instructions" link. The form includes the following fields:

- Report Type: A dropdown menu with "Recertification Subscriber Status Report" selected.
- SAC(s): A text input field with a dropdown arrow.
- Start Date: A date input field with a calendar icon and the placeholder "MM/DD/YYYY".
- End Date: A date input field with a calendar icon and the placeholder "MM/DD/YYYY".
- Type: A dropdown menu with "Recertified" selected.
- Report Format: A dropdown menu with "Display on web page (limited to first 500 responses)" selected.

Recertification

Step 3: 60-Day Recertification Window

- USAC will conduct outreach to subscribers whose eligibility could not be confirmed via the automated check to inform them of the recertification requirement
- The initial mailing to subscribers to initiate the recertification window will include:
 - A letter notifying them of their recertification requirement (English & Spanish), and
 - A copy of the ACP Recertification Form (English & Spanish)

FCC FORM 5648

Affordable Connectivity Program
Annual Recertification Form

About the ACP

The ACP is a Federal Communications Commission (FCC) program that provides a monthly internet service discount and a one-time connected device benefit from participating internet companies for qualifying low-income consumers.

Rules

If you qualify, your household can receive a monthly Affordable Connectivity Program (ACP) benefit of up to $30 to cover the cost of your internet service and up to $75 for qualifying households on Tribal lands. Through the program, your internet company may also offer a one-time internet connected device benefit of up to $100 for a computer, tablet, or laptop with a co-payment of more than $10 but less than $50.

Your household cannot get the ACP benefit from more than one company. You are only allowed to get one ACP benefit per household, not per person.

The Affordable Connectivity Program is separate from the FCC's Lifeline Program. If your household qualifies for both programs, you can apply for and receive both benefits.

Note: Internet companies must also meet certain criteria to participate in the ACP. Check with your company to determine if it participates.

What is a household?

A household is a group of people who live together and share income and expenses (even if they are not related to each other). Complete the ACP household worksheet to determine if more than one qualifying household is located at your address. If more than one person in your household participates in the ACP, you are breaking the FCC's rules and will lose your benefit.

Do not give your benefit to another person

The ACP benefit is non-transferable. You cannot give your benefit to another person, even if they qualify for the ACP.

Be honest on this form

You must give accurate and true information on this form and on all ACP-related forms or questionnaires. If you give false or fraudulent information, you will lose your benefit (i.e., de-enrollment or being barred from the program) and the United States government can take legal action against you. This may include (but is not limited to) fines or imprisonment.

You may need to show other documents

If the ACP Administrator is not able to validate that you or someone in your household qualify by checking available electronic resources (including eligibility databases for the FCC's government agency partners), you may need to provide additional documents. For example, you may need to provide an official document that proves your participation in a qualifying government assistance program, your income, or your identity. Please include copies of your proof documentation when you submit your application to speed up processing time.

Recertify

To recertify for an ACP benefit, fill out the required sections of this form, initial every agreement statement, and sign on page 6.

Mail the form to this address:

Recertification FAQs

Recertification FAQs – General Questions

When will ACP recertification start?

ACP recertification will begin in August 2022.

How long do consumers have to recertify?

Consumers will have 60 days to recertify their ACP benefit. If they do not recertify their benefit within this 60-day window they will be de-enrolled from the program and lose their benefit.

What address will subscribers receive mail outreach to?

Mail outreach will be sent to a subscriber's mailing address if one exists. If a mailing address is not available, the outreach will be sent to the physical home address.

Recertification FAQs – General Questions

Can a subscriber receive assistance from a service provider to recertify through the National Verifier service provider portal?

Subscribers can receive assistance only if they are required to provide documentation (K- app). Subscribers who are only required to self-certify (S-app) cannot be recertified via the service provider portal or the National Verifier eligibility check API.

How will consumers know when their recertification window ends?

USAC will send mail outreach that will show the date consumers will need to recertify by. Consumers will also receive pre-recorded messages and a postcard reminding them to recertify if they have not already done so.

Recertification FAQs – De-Enrollment

When will consumers be de-enrolled from the program?

If a consumer does not recertify their benefit within their 60 day window, they will be de-enrolled 5 business days after their recertification window closes.

How will service providers know what consumers have been de-enrolled?

Service providers will need to check the Recertification Subscriber Status Report in NLAD to see what consumers have been de-enrolled. USAC recommends checking the list daily for service providers to remain up to date on which consumers have been de-enrolled.

Once a consumer is de-enrolled from the program can they reapply?

Yes. If a consumer does not recertify their benefit within the 60 day recertification window, or believes they still qualify for the ACP they can reapply at any time.

Recertification FAQs – Lifeline and ACP Subscribers

If a subscriber receives both Lifeline and ACP benefits do they have to recertify twice?

No. If a subscriber passes the Lifeline recertification process, it satisfies their ACP recertification requirement and they will NOT need to undergo a separate ACP recertification.

If a subscriber does not pass Lifeline recertification will they be de-enrolled from ACP?

No. If a subscriber does not successfully complete the Lifeline recertification process they will be de-enrolled from Lifeline. They will then need to complete ACP recertification.

Recertification FAQs – NLAD Reports

Will there be a Failed Recertification De-enroll Report like there is for Lifeline?

No, for ACP recertification there will be only one report (the Recertification Subscriber Status Report). Service providers can filter the report to just show de-enrollments due to failed recertification.

How do service providers know what subscribers are de-enrolled?

Service providers will need to check the Recertification Subscriber Status Report in NLAD. Service providers can filter the report to just show de-enrollments due to failed recertification.
