Program Achievements

Carrier API Background
A feature that allows service providers to initiate an application and check the status of that application in the National Verifier

Impact
Service providers can interface directly with the National Verifier to conduct eligibility checks and receive eligibility result responses, which service providers have indicated will help streamline their operations and provide better customer service to their Lifeline customers.
National Verifier (NV) Year in Review

Before the National Verifier:

• Service providers had their own eligibility process—potentially causing confusion, errors, and program inconsistencies.

• Consumers received limited support from USAC on program applications.

• Consumer eligibility was determined with various criteria and processes—potentially risking program integrity.

With the National Verifier:

• USAC conducts centralized reviews to provide a consistent consumer experience.

• The Lifeline Support Center provides full support and consumers have an online portal to manage their benefit.

• Eligibility automation provides an increase in enrollment determinations and enforces Lifeline program integrity.
Stakeholder Feedback
Consumers in states with a daily batch connection had to wait for the state database check result and return the next day to upload any needed documents.

USAC updated the document upload feature to collect all information. The consumer will no longer need to return to update information.

Stakeholder Feedback

“...the addition of National Verifier to the National Lifeline Accountability Database [is] a major step forward in the safeguard of customer data and a massive reduction of possible fraud within the system.”
